

SAFER SOUTH AFRICA

FOUNDATION

Mrs Irene Ramatisa
Provincial Coordinator: North West

PROFILE

Mrs Irene Ramatisa, Safer South Africa Foundation's Provincial Coordinator for the North West province, is a former HOD (Head of Department) at the North West Department of Education.

She has been an educator in Free State and North West provinces for 23 years. Ramatisa served in a school management position for seven years as Head of Department.

She holds a teacher diploma from Bonamelo College of Education, and further Diploma in Education Management from Potchefstroom University (now North West University), where she obtained her BED Honours in Education Management.

Ramatisa has completed a leadership course with the Heritage of Bible Institute, as a Godfearing woman, she has been involved in various outreach programmes to serve communities and the most vulnerable in society.